Creating your Feng Shui Practice

Learn Business and Presentation Skills for the Feng Shui Practitioner. Through a unique business plan, we will help students with a solid business formula. You will learn how to consult and follow-up and sustain the relationship with your future clients

Learn how to attract, consult, and follow up and sustain client relationships- from our faculty of teachers who have proven to be some of America's most successful Eco- Designers

The 4 Pillars Cosmology and Horoscope

This sophisticated form of astrology is an important base for Feng Shui advice for a client.

Interpretation, once mastered, can be applied to auspicious timing, relationship compatibility, lucky colors, personalized feng shui design recommendations and many other aspects. It is an amazing and deep study of cosmological influences, and a rare form of astrology not widely known in the west.

Roger Green is a pioneer of Four Pillars in Western culture, having introduced these methods for the first time to thousands of students in Europe, UK, USA and Australia. He created the first effective protocols for 100% correct chart calculations.

Included with this course is an extensive step-by-step manual for calculating and interpreting Four Pillars; which is not available anywhere else and contains Roger's simplified technique for creating Four Pillars and Luck Pillars charts.

Permaculture

– Designing with a Deeper Agenda

Permaculture is a philosophy, which works with natural rhythms and patterns of Nature to consciously create designs that care for both people and the Earth itself. Learn how to mimics the patterns and relationships found in Nature and create useful connections between elements through judicious use of placement, scale, and edge dynamics and 'Patterns of Nature'.

The Soul of the Dwelling

– Esoteric Training for the Designer

This class will introduce Sufi teachings from Hazrat Inayat Khan to learn personal practices to achieve the attunement necessary to work with the unseen elements of dwellings, the landscape and the soul of the designer (ourselves).

Rituals of Harmonization

All cultures have some form of space clearing or "Space Healing" rituals that would focus the positive qualities into the space for its occupants. Clearing the energy of your space can create the opportunity for powerful change. This module discusses how clutter clearing is essential to achieving long-term goals.

Learn how to transform the spaces that you live and work in and bring the magic and 'pure light' back into your life.

Sacred Geometry – The Alchemy of Design

A blueprint of creation – Sacred Geometry is the interface between the seen and unseen, the manifest and unmanifest. It is a universal language of truth, harmony, beauty, proportion, rhythm, shape and order.

- Develop a fundamental understanding of how Nature moves, grows and expresses 'Harmony'.
- Learn the fundamentals of what is called 'Sacred Geometry' and the Golden Section or Divine Ratio.
- Learn the Basic Principles of creating Harmonic or 'Sacred Space' by using Shape, Ratio and Proportion. See how these Principles have been, and are being, used in Nature, Art and Architecture.
- Discover why Pythagoras said Sacred Geometry was the most important science, art and philosophy for a healthy society to learn. From the dance of sub-atomic particles to spiraling galaxies, and the "Fractal Universe"– it is a pathway to understanding who you are, where you are from and where you are going.

Tao and Qi

Study TAO philosophy, integrate the principles of yin and yang into your lifestyle, learn how to balance and obtain harmony of the mind/body. Master the energetics of "Qi", and apply to your home, workplace and community.

The training modules

“The information you shared with us was truly amazing. And the manner in which you inspire understanding is remarkable! I cannot believe how much I got out of just four days. I learned more in Module One than the sum of everything I have learned about Feng Shui so far in my life. Everything came together and somehow you were able to impart a true wholeness to this often segmented and confusing Art”
Jan, Interior Designer

Getting started with Feng Shui

Feng Shui is often called “The Key to Good Fortune”. The Feng Shui journey captures a deeply poetical view of life’s underlying influences. It is a language of universal cosmology and change that we will explore on all levels – physical, emotional, spiritual and universal.

Learn the how and why of “Energy Design” techniques associated with Feng Shui masters for thousands of years. Feng Shui is about harnessing the positive energy surrounding us and minimizing the negative.

We unify the intuitive with the analytical, we blend east and west, and the right and left hemispheres of awareness.

This module will present the fundamental definitions and principles of Feng Shui. You will learn how Feng Shui applies to your life and how you can achieve results in your living and business environments.

What Makes a Healthy Home and Workplace?

These trainings are an outstanding example of how holistic our Feng Shui Practitioners course is, and why it is unique in the world. We will look at the impact that the built environment – our homes and workplaces – have on our health. You will learn all about ‘sick building syndrome’ and ways in which we can remedy the issues that are found.

In the Eco-Living Environments courses, you will learn how to develop a healthy living design toolkit, using nature as a role model. You will learn how to identify the major sources of indoor air, water and electromagnetic pollution and suggest safe alternatives to toxic products. You will have hands-on practice to learn proper use of meters for measuring electromagnetic pollution and apply easy methods to reduce harmful exposure levels.

- The relationship between human health and building design.
- Find out about Electromagnetic Radiation and what it does to you.
- How can you deal with EMF fields?
- Learn how to diagnose, test and provide solutions.
- Learn how to design the Energy Efficient Dwelling.
- Learn about using the elements of Nature: air, sun, wind, water, bio- climate and passive solar design techniques.
- How do we really create a “healthy” dwelling?
- What are ‘green’ sustainable materials?
- Learn how to use the principles of Ecology in creating earth-friendly designs.
- Discover how to integrate passive solar strategies that are cost effective and enhance comfort and productivity.

From the Ba Gua to Flying Star techniques

Simple Steps to Harmony and the Lessons of Wind and Water. The universe and all it contains is essentially energy in a continual state of transformation. The ancient Taoist sages of the East observed powerful insights into the inner working of the universe, and devised methods to trace the everlasting process of change – the rhythm of the order of the universe.

Learn and master the Ancient Taoist Art of applying the Eight Energy Trigrams, along with the Ba Gua, Ming Gua, Ba Zhai and Flying Star techniques

Practical Feng Shui consultations and projects

Students will have the opportunity to gain practical experience and apply everything they have learned in the first 2 modules in a holistic way. You will be guided through the practical applications of Feng Shui, and coached on how to present a project to a client.

“It was like reading a good book, the characters are built up, the surprise builds, the plot is revealed, and one gets the ‘ah-ha’ moment. I enjoyed how the layers of information led into something meaningful.”
