ROOM 3

A complete introduction to Feng Shui

(for beginners) with Roger Green (Worldwide)

Gain an insight into the riches of eastern philosophy, explore the dynamics of yin and yang for your personal well being and spiritual development. Roger is the director of several Feng Shui curricula around the world, including The New York and London School of Feng Shui

- ◆ the principles of Feng Shui and its definitions
- ◆ how to cultivate auspicious chi and how to eliminate harmful influences
- ◆ to understand yin and yang, tao, oriental diagnosis, the five elements and their application to invigorate your health.
- ◆ global perspectives
- ◆ Feng Shui for business

POST CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS: MONDAY 9TH AUGUST

ROOM 1 10-5pm

Special Techniques with the I Ching

with Prof. Wang Yang (special guest from China)

Prof. Yang is a scholar, writer and practitioner of I Ching, Qing Gong, Astrology, Feng Shui and Oriental Traditional Culture. His current position is Professor at the Center for Disease Control and Prevention in Chongqing. Professor Yang is teaching a seminar on his special technique of the I Ching (his new book has just been published in English and will be available at the conference bookshop)

Vedic Mathematics and Magic Squares with Jain (Australia)

After this course of study, you will never multiply, divide or add in the same manner that you are currently using to solve arithmetic problems. An understanding of the 16 basic Sutras or "Word Formulae" solves all known mathematical problems by using an advanced and highly intelligent system of MENTAL, ONE LINE ARITHMETIC used by the Hindus 2,000 years. Also during this workshop Jain will focus our attention upon the ancient Magic Square (also known as the "Lo-Shu" in ancient China, C17th BC) which is also the centre of the Tibetan Calendar/Cosmology

Ecological Design with Feng Shui with Gareth Cole

(From Australia) This will be a practical- hands on and interactive seminar. Gareth will demonstrate how to use the 5 principles used in planning a home so it will be energy efficient. Bring tracing paper and pencils and let us learn the 'art of feeling' as we design. Living sustainably is an attitude to how we must show generations to come what to do and not do. The planet is full of messages we just need to learn how to read again. Gareth Cole is a pioneer of Ecological Design in Australia, an award winning Architect and a Feng Shui practitioner. Learn how to combine environmental awareness with your feng shui designs

POST CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS: TUESDAY 10 AUGUST

ROOM 1 10-5pm

Shamanic Journey with Mallku (special guest from Peru)

Through the magical world of Pachamama (Mother Earth), we are able to be touched at our soul, a ceremony will be one of the ways to help in awakening our inner Sun. Learn to use some of the power instruments to make us stronger in our spiritual path and use the power places to increase your inner power.

Introduction to the Lo pan Feng Shui Compass with Roger Green

Unfolding the mysteries of the Feng Shui compass (an introduction and suitable for beginners) Take a journey into the deep cosmological patterns of the Lo Pan compass. Used for thousands of years in China, the compass represents a huge body of knowledge on Chinese philosophy, numerology and astrology. Roger Green has for many years made extensive research into developing a western system of learning the compass and interpreting its significance. He has created a western language compass that makes this challenging subject more accessible and practical.
