“As nature uses shape
to hold energy or life force, it

makes complete sense to use nature’s shapes and proportions for the shape of our spaces
and buildings.”

DISCOVER WHAT IS 'Full Spectrum Architecture' and learn how to incorporate it into your life and designs!

MICHEAL RICE AND SACRED GEOMETRY

Throughout this dynamic module you will:

"In terms of architecture and design of space, I believe that by creating spaces that are based on the pure principles of natural design we provide a sacred environment that can nurture our bodies, minds and spirits. We can literally design to raise the vibration of the inhabitants. We can use our quantum consciousness to create the space, and to clear it of any stresses that do not serve life. This is 'Full Spectrum Architecture' – not just 'green architecture!' Michael Rice

Sacred Geometry springs to life in the hands of Michael Rice. As an architect, he takes a holistic approach to design, based on the understanding that everything is connected, alive and conscious. His company, Holistic House Plans, is the world's largest online resource for building and space designs based on the natural harmonic principles of biological architecture, sacred geometry and feng shui. Each design is unique, and has emerged from an expression of natural patterns, symmetries, shapes, universal symbols and ratios. He has inspired everyone who has attended his workshops over the past years in San Francisco. We are very proud to bring Michael back once again this year.

This 4 day course is open to all, the only prerequisite is an open mind, enthusiasm for sustainable eco sensitive environments, and a desire to reach your highest potential as a designer, feng shui practitioner or architect and for anyone wishing to create soul-satisfying 'sacred spaces'. The workshop is designed to present a good grounding in the science and art of Sacred Geometry, as well as some practical applications and exercises.

Bio-Architecture is a set of principles for design, construction and land use which utilizes the necessary 'fractal' shapes, which allow all living systems to thrive. The New York School of Feng Shui founder Roger Green has sponsored Bio-Architecture conferences in Budapest, Mexico City, Spain and Prague.

- Learn the natural geometries, shapes, forms, ratios and growth patterns that create life and truly create sustainable systems.
- Develop a fundamental understanding of how nature moves, grows and expresses 'Harmony'
- Learn tools that can be put into immediate use to improve your design abilities
- How to take 'green and sustainable' to the next 'level'
- Learn the fundamentals of what is called the 'Divine Ratio'
- Learn how our perceptions of the world literally create our reality and how to become more conscious of what it is we wish to create
- Learn what happens in our hearts and our bodies when we become less judgmental, more loving (more coherent).
- Learn the Geometry of Compassion and Love, and the meaning of 'Coherence', 'Shareability' and 'Sustainability' in our hearts and outer environments.
