“Feng Shui is about harnessing chi, the life-force energy that ripples water, creates mountains and propels us along our life pathway. With an understanding of Feng Shui comes the recognition of the vital connection between person and place, health, success and happiness.”

Roger Green – New York School of Feng Shui Founder and Director

Experience knowledge, wisdom, inspiration, and innovation with the most engaging and empowering Feng Shui Practitioner Certification program in the world.

Founded 20 years ago, the New York School of Feng Shui offers one of the earliest established classical Feng Shui curriculums in the west. Known as a pioneer of modern applications of Feng Shui, it also includes coursework on sustainable green development and ecological designs.

Our time-tested curriculum integrates the richness of eastern philosophies with innovative western techniques. It balances ancient traditions with modern knowledge, and analytical thinking with intuitive being.

innovation

In the course of one year, build a career by helping others re-energize their environment, health and lives. Our principle based non-dogmatic teaching inspires students to reach new heights. Once mastered, these principles become a catalyst for personal, community and global transformation.
